

Civilians Break Israel's Siege of Gaza!

We can.
We did.
We will.

We can.
We did.
We will.

A talk and multimedia presentation by Paul Larudee

Just returned from Palestine

On Aug. 23, 2008, two small boats, the SS Free Gaza and the SS Liberty, safely landed in Gaza, breaking the Israeli blockade of the Gaza Strip. When they arrived at the Port of Gaza, they were greeted by the cheers and joyful tears of thousands of Palestinians who came out to the beaches to welcome them. The boats were crewed by a determined group of international human rights workers from the Free Gaza Movement. Meet one of these human rights workers from California and hear his historic report-back on what they experienced and what they saw. Don't miss this multimedia presentation!
