

J20 UC BERKELEY WALK-OUT

www.berkeleyvstrump.org
ucbvstrump@gmail.com

JAN 18th - 6pm

Direct Action Training/Art Build for #J20

Join the J20 Coalition in collaboration with allies from the Queer and Transgender Advocacy Project, UAW 2865, the Graduate Assembly, and others for an art-build, direct action skill share, and finalizing our campus's plans for #J20.

6pm in UC Berkeley's Anthony Hall; accessible space, refreshments provided

JANUARY 20th
SPROUL PLAZA

8 AM

TEACH-IN

12 PM

RALLY

Teach-In Schedule: J20

* subject to slight changes

- 8:00 am :  Imagining Otherwise: Making Education Our Own (teach-in will repeat at 9am)
- 8:30 am :  The Russian Revolution of 1917: Its Legacy 100 Years Later
- 9:00 am :  Free Speech, Hate Speech and the Backlash Against PC
-  Essay reading: James Baldwin's "Stranger in the Village"
-  Poetry Reading: German Songs of Protest and Resistance
-  Campus Nature Walk
-  The politicization of science and how we fight back
-  "Everyone is an intellectual": the relevance of intellectual work to contemporary politics
- 9:30 am :  Earth Rights = Human Rights
-  The Danger of Fascist Environmentalism
- 10:00 am :  What is Fascism? How to Know It When You See It
-  We're Not Saving Anyone! The non-profit industrial complex and privatization of public education, A Plot to Take Back the future of education!
-  Community-engaged scholarship: a mandate for the public university
-  Facilitation 101: navigating difficult conversations
-  DESTROY WHAT DESTROYS YOU: performance studies weirdos perform working group to address structural white supremacy across disciplines at uc berkeley.(teach-in will last approx. 1.5 hours)
-  Fighting for Your Rights: navigating the Union grievance process
-  Recognizing and Addressing Unconscious Bias
-  Fighting against Trump and the capitalist two-party system
-  Feet on the Pavement: Social change and the language of parliamentary power

- 10:30 am :  What can we learn about political resistance from children's books?
-  Art Against Fascism--a collaborative lecture by the History of Art dept
- 11:00 am :  Real Estate Realpolitik: Donald J. Trump and Landlords in U.S. Urban Politics
-  The Political Science of Trumpism: Exploring Threats to Democracy and International Security
-  Labor and Education in the Trump Era
-  Reading for Resistance Poetry Reading
-  Wild foods and medicines of the UCB Campus
-  The Language of American Life: Science and education under the Trump administration
-  "One big hoax! Scientific lies and the liars that love them."
-  Story Art Strategies to Connect with Any Audience
-  "Public" Education? Where UC's Money Comes From and Where It's Going
-  What Do We Do Now? How to Organize and Participate Effectively
-  Image Ideologies: critical looking as resistance

A more detailed schedule, including locations, is available at <http://tinyurl.com/UCBJ20Schedule>. Locations are also pinned on this google map: <http://tinyurl.com/UCBJ20map>.

Thematic Tracks:

 Analyzing & Historicizing	 Lit Up
 Earthiness	 Taking Action Now
 Politicalized Science	 (Public?) Education
 Pedagogy & Facilitation	 Labor
 Artful Politics

Accessibility Note: We in the J20 Coalition want to ensure that all can participate in our spaces, teach-ins, rally, and march. All bodies are unique and all bodies have needs that must be met. Tell us what you need to be present and participate in the space by filling out a form (<http://tinyurl.com/BerkeleyJ20Access>) or by emailing Union Steward Julia Havard at julia.havard@gmail.com. Common access needs include: childcare, childrens' activities, dietary needs, scent-free spaces, ASL interpretation, lighting sensitivity, quiet space, non-visual options for visual materials and/or audio describers, wheelchair accessibility, all gender bathrooms. We commit to making this day as accessible as possible for people of all abilities, family structures, and socioeconomic statuses, knowing that collective liberation means that we move together, with no body or mind left behind. Please also let us know if you need transportation from Berkeley to Oakland when we march after the rally.